

Mother Finds Rich Bachelor Dead.
Charles S. Waldron, fifty, a retired real estate operator, was found dead today on the floor of his suite in the Hotel Collingwood, No. 45 West Thirty-fifth Street, by his mother, Mrs. Georgiana Waldron, eighty, who went to call him for breakfast. She notified the clerk and Dr. Townsend was called. He said he believed Waldron died last night of apoplexy. Mr. Waldron was single and was reputed wealthy.

Don't be deceived by the size of the roll. In toilet paper it's easy to make 500 sheets look larger than 1000. Be sure of quality, then look on the label for number of sheets.

SEYMOUR 'WIRE TAP' INQUIRY ENDS AS SULTZER RECANTS

Professed Morgan Agent Admits He Had No Connection With Firm.

The taking of testimony in the inquiry into the alleged wire-tapping in the law office of Seymour and Seymour in the Equitable Building, to discover the reported theft of cable information from the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., was abruptly ended this afternoon by District Attorney Swann.

He stated to Chief Magistrate McAdoo that Morton Sultzer, who had a desk in the Seymour offices, and had sought to negotiate a cotton contract with the American Cotton Products Company, now admitted that he had tried to "put something over" and failed, that he had no connection whatever with the Morgan firm and knew no one there.

Sultzer, who was in court, was not called to the stand, but had a whispered conversation with Mr. Swann before the District Attorney made his announcement.

Mr. Swann said: "Sultzer says that what Mr. Prindle of the Morgan firm has just testified to is perfectly true; that he was representing himself as having a pull with the Morgan firm, whereas he had no such thing. He was trying to put something over and it slipped."

James A. Beck, counsel for William J. Burns, the detective whose agency installed a detector in the Seymour office at the instance of the Morgan house, then said:

"If this is admitted I think this inquiry might properly end." In reply Mr. Swann explained to the court that he had thought it best to bring the facts in the case into open court rather than before a Grand Jury, and that he felt that a public service had been rendered in doing so.

Mr. Beck defended his client, Burns, and urged that a further service be done by exonerating him of any wrongdoing in placing his instruments in the Seymour offices.

John Seymour objected to the termination of the case at this point, but Magistrate McAdoo replied that he did not think that anything further was to be obtained by the examination of witnesses. He gave the District Attorney, Mr. Beck and Mr.

Seymour until Friday to submit briefs and said that an oral argument would be heard by him on that day.

The chief witness examined today was James Lynch, a stenographer in the Burns Agency who made copies of certain letters and papers in the Seymour offices at the instance of Burns. He said that the lights were always burning when he did his work and that he used mainly his own discretion in making copies. All he was instructed to do was to copy anything he thought bore upon the theft of information from the Morgan offices.

He denied that he had ever had a revolver with him, although Bartlett Smith, a young man who had been employed to drill a hole through the Seymour wall, had testified that on one occasion Lynch, when a night watchman, had come to the office, drew a revolver, and said that the watchman would "get it" if he interfered.

Lynch testified that he copied fifty of a hundred letters and papers and that all were taken from the tops of desks or from letter baskets, never from drawers.

Harry B. Prindle, of the Morgan firm, testified that he had been present at a meeting between Sultzer and Treasurer Prescott of the American Cotton Products Company and heard Sultzer describe himself as having a "pull" with the Morgans, declaring that he, Prindle, was only a figurehead.

FOUR TO DIE AS TRAITORS.

Czech Leaders Doomed for Taking Sides With Russia.

VIENNA, June 5.—Four members of the Hungarian Czech Party have been found guilty of high treason or espionage and sentenced to death.

Dr. Kramers, leader of the Young Czechs, and Dr. Rosenzweig, a Deputy in the Diet, were convicted of treason. Herr Zamasol, bookkeeper, and Herr Corvinka, editorial secretary of the newspaper Narodny Listy, of espionage.

All four were charged with leading a movement to bring about a rapprochement between Bohemia and Russia. Herr Kramers has repeatedly been to Petrograd in connection with the movement.

VILLA SHOT DEAD BY HIS OWN MEN, PERSHING IS TOLD

Carranza Soldiers Told Not to Attack Americans, Even if Fired On.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, AMERICAN PUNITIVE EXPEDITION, NEAR NAMIQUIPA, Mex., June 5.—That Francisco Villa is dead, shot by his own followers, is the circumstantial story brought into the American camp by Jesus Navarez, former resident of Las Cruces, a few miles north of this camp, who was with the bandit chieftain when he was wounded at Guerrero.

Lieut. James L. Collins, Gen. Pershing's aide-de-camp, has questioned Navarez for hours, but has been unable to trap him in a single misstatement. Lieut. Collins accompanied Major Robert L. Howze's column in the Villa hunt and knows precisely the ground the Mexican mentions. The man's story checks up closely with what was learned by Major Howze's troops, which took up the trail at Guerrero on April 11 and followed it until it was lost near Parral.

Navarez told the American officers that Villa was severely wounded in the knee and suffered much pain, caused by infection, that he was wildly delirious most of the time and that he could only be restrained by force from harming himself.

Navarez said he deserted Villa at Casas Colorado only after he became convinced the bandit could not live. He says that immediately after he left, Villa was killed by his own men, but whether by accident or design he did not know. He fixes the date of Villa's death as April 10.

EL PASO, June 5.—Any Carranza soldier who fires upon an American soldier will be punished by death, and any civilian attacking Americans will meet the same fate, according to a decree issued by Gen. Jacinto Trevino, Division Commander at Chihuahua City. This is the second development from the Pershing-Gavira conference at Nuevo Casas Grandes last Thursday, the first having been the appointment of Gavira at Pershing's request, to lead the bandit hunt.

Mexican troops are under orders not to attack Americans, and, if attacked, not to return the fire.

On the American side there has been considerable strengthening of the artillery forces to protect the border from further raids.

A regiment of 50 officers and 850 men from the Arizona National Guard has been mustered into the United States service.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Wilson today began the draft of his reply to the latest note from Carranza demanding withdrawal of American troops or explanation of why the United States should keep its troops on Mexican soil.

It is the Administration's present intention to have its reply in Carranza's hands before the end of the week—perhaps before Thursday, to forestall as much as possible expected adverse criticism of the President's Mexican policy at the Chicago convention.

That the troop withdrawal suggestion will be refused seemed certain. That the refusal will convey to the de facto Government officials finality of decision in this respect seemed also a certainty. But the answer will be couched in such terms as to leave the Carranza Government ample opportunity to "keep itself right" before the Mexican public. Complete peaceful conditions below the border, the note will state, must prevail, with some degree of certainty that wholesale banditry and lawlessness and raids on the American side cannot recur.
